INTRODUCTION

1. In its latest reply to the note of the Secretary-General of UNCTAD dated 23 May 1986, the Government of Japan provided information on total, dutiable, covered and preferential imports of products falling within the Harmonized Commodity Description and Coding System (H.S.) chapters 1 to 24 and 25 to 97 from beneficiaries of its scheme of generalized preferences for fiscal year (FY) 1989.

2. In addition, this note includes information sent previously by Japan 1/ of its scheme for FYs 1987 and 1988. Although a summary of the information for the whole period is presented in table 1 of this note, the analysis which follows concentrates mainly on the latest year, namely FY 1989.

Imports by Japan from beneficiaries of its scheme in fiscal year (FY) 1989

3. Table I of the annex shows the totals of the above-mentioned categories of imports from all beneficiaries and various groups of beneficiaries. In FY 1989 imports were recorded from 154 beneficiaries of which 10 did not have MFN dutiable trade and another 20 had MFN dutiable trade not covered by the scheme, leaving 124 which supplied goods covered by the scheme, of which 92 actually received preferential treatment. 2/

4. As may be seen from table 1, total Japanese imports from all supplying beneficiaries amounted to $100.2 billion in FY 1989. 3/ Some $86.3 billion or 86.1 per cent of these imports consisted of industrial products in H.S. chapters 25-97, with the remaining $13.9 billion, or 13.9 per cent, accounted for by agricultural products in H.S. chapters 1-24. Dutiable imports accounted for $69.8 billion or 69.7 per cent of these total imports. Imports covered by the scheme amounted to $27.4 billion or 39.3 per cent of dutiable imports. Around 52 per cent ($14.1 billion) of these covered imports received preferential treatment. Industrial products constituted the bulk ($11.9 billion or 83.8 per cent) of imports of products which actually received GSP treatment.

5. The rate of utilization (i.e. preferential imports as a percentage of covered products) amounted to 51.9 per cent, while the rates for agricultural and industrial products amounted to 91.5 per cent and 47.8 per cent respectively. The relatively higher rate of utilization for agricultural products can be explained by the absence of a priori limitations contained in H.S. chapters 1-24.

6. Nine major beneficiary suppliers accounted for $57.4 billion or 57.3 per cent of total Japanese imports from all beneficiaries. Some $39.6 billion or 69 per cent of these total imports were dutiable, of which $22.1 billion or 55.8 per cent were imports covered by the scheme. Slightly less than 50 per cent ($11 billion) of these covered imports actually received preferential treatment. These nine major beneficiaries supplied 80.7 per cent and 77.5 per cent of covered and preferential imports from all beneficiaries. Industrial products in H.S. chapters 25-97 accounted for the bulk of covered and preferential imports from all major supplying countries or territories. Ranked by order of value of trade covered by the scheme, these major supplying beneficiaries were: Republic of Korea, China, Taiwan Province of China, Brazil, Hong Kong, Thailand, Indonesia, Philippines and Singapore. The first three major beneficiary suppliers above accounted for 59.2 per cent and 52.9 per cent of covered and preferential imports from all beneficiaries.

7. Table 1 also indicates that Japan recorded imports from 37 least developed countries (LDCs) amounting to $723 million of which $433 million or 59.9 per cent were dutiable. Some $225 million (99.1 per cent) originating in only 19 LDCs actually received preferential treatment. Some 88.4 per cent of these preferential imports consisted of agricultural products in H.S. chapters 1-24. Of the 37 LDCs exporting to Japan in FY 1989, 5 did not have dutiable imports, 6 4/ did not have imports covered by the scheme and of the remaining 26, which supplied goods eligible for preferential treatment, 7 5/ failed to receive such treatment.

8. Thus the following 19 LDCs (listed in order of importance of their preferential exports) actually benefited from the scheme: Mauritania, Gambia, Bangladesh, United Republic of Tanzania, Afghanistan, Ethiopia, Nepal, Burundi, Sudan, Malawi, Guinea Bissau, Haiti, Rwanda, Lesotho, Samoa, Botswana, Bhutan, Central African Republic and Maldives. The first three countries accounted for 97.1 per cent of total preferential imports from LDCs.

Trade implications of the scheme of Japan 1987-1989

9. The information received from the Government of Japan on the operation of its scheme of generalized preferences during the period 1987-1989 is summarized in terms of annual growth rates in table 2. In addition, previous information provided by the Japanese Government (TD/B/C.5/PREF/29) relative to FY 1982-1985 has also been taken into account. This analysis can provide only a composite, indicative description of the trade implications of the Japanese scheme, since a list of interrelated factors such as improvements in the scheme, world and domestic inflationary and recessionary trends, basic commodity price fluctuations and exchange-rate variations tend to affect Japanese imports from beneficiaries of its scheme directly or indirectly.

10. An examination of the overall growth rates for the period FY 1982-1989 (or seven years), as shown in table 2, reveals that the Japanese scheme of generalized preferences continued to contribute vigorously to the expansion of Japanese imports from beneficiaries, even though preferential imports increased at a less rapid rate (from $5.3 billion in 1982 to $14.2 billion in 1989 or by 15.3 per cent annually) than dutiable imports (from $13.3 billion in 1982 to $69.8 billion in 1989 or 22.2 per cent annually) and than that of covered imports which increased from $8.6 billion to $27.4 billion or by 18.1 per cent annually.

11. Regarding the period FY 1987-1989, the trend seen above for the longer period 1982-1989 is confirmed and is even strengthened. It should be recalled that Japan introduced a new GSP scheme for 1988 which included many improvements and liberalization. This fact is apparently reflected in the steady increase of imports from the beneficiaries.

12. During the period FY 1987-1989, the rate of utilization for all imports decreased from 51.6 per cent in 1987 to 49.9 per cent in 1989. In 1977 the rate of utilization amounted to 57 per cent and in 1985 to 59.7 per cent. The continued decline of the rate could be due, among other reasons, to the new limits of the per-country maximum amount limitations as applied from 1984 (reduced from 50 per cent to one third in FY 1984 and then to 25 per cent in FY 1987) and also, perhaps, because of the non-utilization of new possibilities offered to the beneficiaries of preferential imports (suppression of quantitative limits to a large number of industrial products covered by the Japanese GSP scheme).

Major products imported under the scheme in FY 1989

13. Table III of the annex shows the value of Japan's imports in FY 1989 of (I) Agricultural products and (II) industrial products covered by its scheme as defined at the H.S. 4-digit level from the world and beneficiary suppliers, as well as the value of imports of these products which effectively received preferential treatment.

14. Imports of major products from beneficiaries in 1989 amounted to $22 billion or 80.4 per cent of the total covered ($27.4 billion), in which imports of major agricultural products from beneficiaries amounted to $2.1 billion or 80.8 per cent of the total covered ($2.6 billion), while imports of major industrial products amounted to $20 billion or 80.4 per cent of the total covered ($24.8 billion) in 1989. Almost 96 per cent of these agricultural products in FY 1989 received preferential treatment. As to industrial products the rate of utilization was almost 41 per cent in FY 1989.

14. The following nine agricultural products as defined at H.S. 4-digit level represented the most important items among these categories in 1989: 6/ H.S. 03.07 Molluscs ($605 million); H.S. 16.04 Prepared or preserved fish ($468 million); H.S. 08.03 Bananas ($432 million); H.S. 16.05 Crustaceans, molluscs prepared ($178 million); H.S. 15.11 Palm oils ($100 million); H.S. 07.12 Dried vegetables ($97 million); H.S. 12.11 Plants and parts of plants ($78 million); H.S. 21.01 Extracts of coffee, tea ($50 million).

15. Ninety-one industrial products as defined at H.S. 4-digit level represented the most important items among these categories in 1989. 7/ The most important among them were: H.S. 72.08 Flat-rolled products of iron not clad plated, hot-rolled ... ($1,512 million); H.S. 76.01 Unwrought aluminium ($1,459 million); H.S. 61.10 Jerseys, pullovers ... knitted ... ($1,369 million); H.S. 74.03 Refined copper ... ($1,136 million); H.S. 72.02 Ferro-Alloys ($584 million); H.S. 62.04 Women's or girls's suits, ensembles ... ($560 million), H.S. 27.07 Oils and other products of the distillation of coal tar ($545 million); H.S. 62.03 Men's or boys' suits, ensembles ($532 million); H.S. 62.01 Men's or boys' overcoats ... ($473 million); H.S. 42.02 Trunks, suit-cases ... travelling bags ... of leather, textile materials ... ($464 million); H.S. 44.07 Wood sawn ... ($375 million); H.S. 68.02 Worked monumental or building stone ... ($363 million); H.S. 71.13 Articles of jewellery ... ($354 million); H.S. 62.05 Men's or boys' shirts ($352 million); H.S. 62.11 Track suits, ski suits ... ($310 million); H.S. 72.09 Flat-rolled products of iron or non-alloy steel ... not clad, plated, cold-rolled ... ($302 million). It should be noted that imports of covered textiles and textile products falling within H.S. chapters 50 to 63 represented nearly 27 per cent of imports of major covered products, while imports of covered base metals and articles thereof represented around 26 per cent of imports of major covered products.
